

You May Pick Up
a good bargain by reading The Tee-
Dee Want Ads.

The Times

The Dispatch

Tee-Dee Want Ads pay others and will pay you if you use them.

THE DISPATCH FOUNDED 1856
THE TIMES FOUNDED 1858

WHOLE NUMBER 16,705.

RICHLAND, VA., SUNDAY, DECEMBER 4, 1904.

PRICE FIVE CENTS.

SEARCHED ROOM; FOUND HANDBAG

Deputy Sheriff Serves
Attachment on Mrs.
Chadwick in Va.

WOMAN DEFIANT; MAN HAD TO SHOUT

Attorney for Newton Again Expresses Confidence That Client
Will Get All His Money Back—Receiver Has Taken No Action.

(By Associated Press.)
NEW YORK, December 3.—The financial affairs of Mrs. Cassie L. Chadwick were further complicated to-day by the issuance of an attachment against her property for $1,367.50 on behalf of a firm of milliners of this city. The application was made by a lawyer, Theodore H. Friend, on the ground that Mrs. Chadwick is a debtor and is not a resident of this State. The writ was issued by Justice Conlan, of the City Court.

Writ of Attachment Served.

The writ of attachment against Mrs. Chadwick's personal property, was served upon the clerk and manager of the Holland House this afternoon. Lawyer Friend holds that this was sufficient to act as a service, and would prevent Mrs. Chadwick from removing any of her personal property from the hotel.

"There is absolutely nothing to prevent Mrs. Cassie L. Chadwick from leaving the Holland House with her baggage, if she sees fit," said Philip Carpenter, counsel for Mrs. Chadwick to-night, when asked concerning the report that a writ of attachment had been served.

"The papers were served on the manager of the hotel and not on my client personally, and that fact renders the service null and void. As a matter of fact, Mrs. Chadwick had no intention of leaving New York for a few days, but there would be no legal objection if she saw fit, according to my view of the law."

In contradiction to the statement of Mr. Carpenter, Deputy Sheriff Friend said that he served the attachment on Mrs. Chadwick personally to-day, after first serving it on a clerk and Manager Harrison, of the Holland House. Friend says that he was permitted to go to the Chadwick apartments, where he found Mrs. Chadwick reclining on a couch. Owing to her defiance, Friend was obliged to enter by force.

When he made his entrance, he found the Chadwick family in a state of alarm. He told them that he had come to serve a writ of attachment.

"I then searched the rooms as well as I could, but all I could find there was a small hand-bag and the woman's hat and jacket."

"We have been informed that Mrs. Chadwick has changed her apartments in the Holland House three times. We believe that the hand-bag that I found in her room does not constitute all her effects."

Shadowed by Detectives.
A story was published in an evening paper to the effect that a million-dollar estate was in the custody of a millionaire, whose name has been mentioned in connection with the Chadwick case, are shadowing Mrs. Chadwick. According to this rumor, two detectives are in the Holland House in the guise of patients and others are watching the Chadwick family about the corridors. The hotel management is quite unaware of the alleged presence of detectives, and it has been impossible to confirm the story.

George Ryall, the New York attorney for Herbert D. Newton, gave out the statement to-day regarding the settlement of his client's claim against Mrs. Chadwick:

"I am satisfied that our claim against Mrs. Chadwick will be paid. The settlement will be in full and in cash. Of course, there may not be a full payment of Newton's claim of $150,000, because I believe there are some of the notes held by Newton which Mrs. Chadwick did not get their full face value, and of course, deductions will have to be made on account of the legal costs and legal obligations of Mrs. Chadwick to Newton will be met by her in full and with cash and by Mrs. Chadwick herself, regardless of the bankruptcy proceedings brought against her in Cleveland on Friday."

On Verge of Collapse.
Mrs. Chadwick is said to be in a state bordering on collapse. The nervous strain of the last few days has been so great that she is reported as hysterical. Dr. Moore, who is her New York medical attendant, was called in to-night, and, after prescribing for her.

"Mrs. Chadwick is suffering from nothing except the nervous strain from which she has been undergoing. It is no wonder that a woman of her age would give way, considering what she has been through. There is, however, no constitutional trouble."

Receiver Not Doing Anything.
(By Associated Press.)
CLEVELAND, OHIO, December 3.—The suit brought by Herbert D. Newton, of Brookline, Mass., against Mrs. Cassie L. Chadwick was again continued by Judge Babcock to-day. The attorneys representing both Mr. Newton and Mrs. Chadwick were in court, and requested that the hearing go over for a week. A. P. Stearns, of the legal firm of Carr, Stearns and Chamberlain, representing Mr. Newton, said the entire matter would be doubtless settled out of court.

Nathan Lowner, appointed receiver for Mrs. Chadwick, said to-day:

"I have taken no action as yet toward securing possession of any of Mrs. Chadwick's property. The property is practically all in the hands of adverse claimants. In order to get possession it would be necessary for me to bring an action in court. This I am inclined to think, at any rate, until we have conferred with Mrs. Chadwick's counsel. There have been no developments in the receivership case to-day, and the matter rests just where it did when I was appointed."

Sent on for Murder.
LYNCHBURG, VA., Dec. 3.—In the Police Court today, Morton Hamlett, colored, was held for the grand jury on the charge of murdering Joe Gary, also colored, here on September 22d.

MAJOR NORMAN V. RANDOLPH,
In Whose Honor a Hall at the Soldiers' Home Was Named and Dedicated Last Night.

RANDOLPH HALL IS DEDICATED

Interesting Exercises at Soldiers' Home, Including Several Good Speeches.

THE SIGHT SADDENED HIM

General Lee Visibly Touched at the Sight of So Many Bowed Forms.

The new Randolph hall at Lee Camp Soldiers' Home in this city was formally dedicated and turned over to the veterans of the Home last night with appropriate exercises and in the presence of many well known veterans.

The new hall has just been completed, and is a commodious well-lighted and comfortably equipped auditorium suitable for entertainments and gatherings of any description. The building was designed, and its construction supervised by Captain M. J. Dimmock, architect, and Confederate veteran of this city. The cost of the hall was about $4,000. The building committee consisted of Messrs. Joseph A. Thomas, Charles J. Anderson and E. J. Boshier.

The hall was nearly filled with the veterans of the home in their gray jackets and with visitors last night on the occasion of the dedicatory exercises. Among the ladies present were Mrs. Norman V. Randolph and Misses Meta Nora and Nina Randolph, widow and daughters of Major Randolph, for whom the new hall was named.

General Charles J. Anderson presided at last night's dedicatory exercises. Among others occupying seats on the rostrum were: Rev. James Power Smith, D. D., General Fitzhugh Lee, Captain Carlton McCarthy, Mayor Captain M. J. Dimmock, Captain W. Ben Palmer, Rev. Landon R. Mason D. D., President E. J. Boshier and other members of the Soldiers' Home board; Colonel Charles Eker, commandant of the Home; Adjutant W. W. Caldwell, Colonel C. T. Crittenden and others. Mr. Felix Cardella and members of Philom's Orchestra.

(Continued on Fifth Page.)

SLEW PLANTER WHO KEPT THEM AT WORK

Negroes Wanted to Get Off to Attend Funeral—Much Excitement.

(By Associated Press.)
AUGUSTA, GA., Dec. 3.—Guy Reid and John Butler, negroes, at Thompson to-day, confessed the murder of R. G. Story, a prominent planter, whose body was found in a swamp yesterday. They said they killed him because he would not let them leave the cotton field Wednesday to attend a funeral. There is great excitement at Thompson, and lynching is threatened. Judge Hammond left Augusta this afternoon to arrange a special term of court next week to try the negroes.

No Danger of Lynching.

(By Associated Press.)
MACON, GA., December 3.—A special to the Telegraph from Thompson, Ga., says:

"There has been no little excitement here today since the finding of the dead body of R. G. Story yesterday and the confession of the two negroes, John Butler and Guy Reid."

"There was a strange feeling here of lynching, but since then there has been a meeting at the courthouse, where there assembled a large crowd of citizens, together with Judge Hammond, who came on a meeting at the courthouse and a speech trial, which will take place Tuesday, the 6th."

The coroner's jury has not yet rendered a verdict, as they expect to sift the evidence, when it is expected others will be implicated. At this hour the crowd is dispersing, and it is hoped that all danger of lynching is passed.

GAG ORDER HAS BEEN RESCINDED

Boston Paper Will Get All of the Weather Information It Wants.

PRESIDENT'S ACTION CAUSES SENSATION

Republican Congressman Says
He Should Have Gone About the Matter in a Different Way—No Authority to Withhold Forecasts.

(From Our Regular Correspondent.)
WASHINGTON, D. C., December 3.—It is believed that the President himself did not appreciate the sweeping character of the order he issued this week forbidding any department official to give information of a public nature to the representative of the Boston Herald, because of the publication from the Washington correspondent of that paper of a story telling of the cruel treatment given the presidential Thanksgiving turkey by the Roosevelt children.

The latest phase of the trouble was the refusal of the Weather Bureau to allow weather forecasts to go to the paper. But an order went to Boston to-day from Willis Moore, head of the bureau, directing that the paper be furnished the indications. The law establishing the bureau contemplated its furnishing the forecasts to newspapers and a congressional appropriation is made for this purpose. It is not within the power of the President of the United States to withhold them. The order of the President did not give the paper a handle which it could lay hold of, and start a fight against him. But if he had persisted in allowing the weather forecasts to be withheld the Herald would have such a handle, and it is authoritatively stated, intended taking the matter to the courts, and by means of a mandamus to compel the bureau officials to furnish the indications.

Sentiment With President.

Public sentiment here has been with the President from the first, though a Republican member of Congress, chairman of one of the House's prominent committees of the House, said the day after the order was issued, that the President should have taken a different line in the columns of the paper, and requested the editor to place some other man in Washington as correspondent. It was not appreciated at the time the order was issued that it was intended to apply to the paper, instead of to the correspondent. But the correspondent may obtain such information as he wants if he should leave this paper and go to work for another, while the best friend of the President would be denied it if he asked a department official for information as representative of the Boston Herald. Of course, men whose names are on government pay roll very generally approve the order. It is astonishing, but true, that many people who could not make a living for a week on any respectable paper say in discussing the order that "the press has too much liberty anyhow," or words to that effect. But sensible and thoughtful men, even of the President's own party, realize that the order may indicate that he regards it but a short step to forbidding the giving of information to a newspaperman until he has promised that it shall be printed in a certain way, and that his paper will not criticize the powers that be. After such an order as that, there would not be even one step to press censorship similar to that which keeps the people of Russia ignorant of the tyranny that oppresses them.

The Boston Herald is getting all the Washington news it wants. As evidence of the fact that the more thoughtful officials realize the unwisdom and possible illegality of the order it may be stated, that they see that the paper is not left on important news, such as the date of the appearance of annual reports, and such routine matters, though the bureau of the paper is not on the official mailing list.

Disregarded Order?

(By Associated Press.)
KANSAS CITY, MO., Dec. 3.—A relief train which went from here to the scene of the wreck returned late to-night, bringing many of the injured to the Missouri-Pacific Hospital and other hospitals in this city.

The wreck occurred fourteen miles west of Dead Man's Curve, near Warrensburg, where the worst wreck in the history of the Missouri-Pacific Railway happened in October, when thirty persons lost their lives.

Supposition has it that orders were given the train crew at Center View, Mo., to stop up at the water works bridge on account of a broken rail there. It seems that the train was behind the schedule time and this order was not heeded.

LAND FRAUD TRIAL OVER; NO EVIDENCE FOR DEFENSE

(By Associated Press.)
PORTLAND, ORE., December 3.—The land fraud trial came to an abrupt close to-day. The defense occupied but seventeen minutes, and then only to present explanations in behalf of two of their counsel, offering nothing for the defendants, who for two weeks have listened to a chain of evidence against themselves, presented by the prosecution, which confidently expected to convict them of a conspiracy to defraud the government out of a portion of the public domain. The defense apparently based their hopes on an argument to the jury, and if that fails, on a reversal of judgment at the hands of an appellate tribunal on questions of law.

SHOT AND KILLED BY RICHMOND NEGRO

(By Associated Press.)
PHILADELPHIA, December 3.—John Robinson, a negro, was shot and killed to-night during a card game by Clifton Skelton, another negro. Skelton fled and has not yet been arrested. His home is said to be in Richmond, Va.

Stole Ship's Crew.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
NEWPORT NEWS, VA., Dec. 3.—Captain Goulding, of the British steamship Dora, reported to the police to-day that a crew had stolen four members of his crew, and that it would be impossible for him to sail for Havana on time.

The authorities are making a search for the men and some arrests will probably follow.

Crushed in a Sewer.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
KINGSTON, N. C., Dec. 3.—John Lockhart, a negro workman of the West Coast Construction Company, was crushed and instantly killed here to-day by a caving in of the Gordon Street sewer, in course of excavation. He was crushed between the sheeting placed in the ditch to prevent caving, which was about fifteen or twenty feet in depth.

GENERAL NOGRI,
Who is Commanding the Japanese Troops Besieging Port Arthur.

WANTS REPEAL OF AMENDMENT

Bacon Says Southern Democrats Must Stand Together for Maintenance of White Supremacy.

WOULD ACCEPT REDUCTION OF NEGRO OFFICE-HOLDING.

But Democrats Must Be Firm in Opposition to Negro Rule and Negro Office-Holding.

(By Associated Press.)
MACON, GA., Dec. 3.—Congressman T. W. Hardwick, of the Tenth Georgia District, a few days ago wrote a letter to Senator A. O. Bacon asking his views on the present political situation. Senator Bacon replied at length.

The senator says there is an effort to repudiate the South. He declares that while supremacy must be maintained in the South, because the Democrats in that section of the South are due to white supremacy. He advocates the repeal of the fifteenth amendment, and insists that unless that shall be done the people of the South will be forced to maintain the proposition of white supremacy. Following is a paragraph:

"If there were nothing else of which to boast, if this were the sole achievement of the Democratic party in the South, this of the Democratic party in the South, in saving the South from a fate worse than anarchy would earn for it and entitle it to the undying gratitude and appreciation of all its citizens, and all its attendant blessings. And there are none who should be more grateful to the Democratic party for this than the Republican party of the North, because the Democrats in that section of the South, in thus saving the South from a fate worse than anarchy would earn for it and entitle it to the undying gratitude and appreciation of all its citizens, and all its attendant blessings. And there are none who should be more grateful to the Democratic party for this than the Republican party of the North, because the Democrats in that section of the South, in thus saving the South from a fate worse than anarchy would earn for it and entitle it to the undying gratitude and appreciation of all its citizens, and all its attendant blessings. And there are none who should be more grateful to the Democratic party for this than the Republican party of the North, because the Democrats in that section of the South, in thus saving the South from a fate worse than anarchy would earn for it and entitle it to the undying gratitude and appreciation of all its citizens, and all its attendant blessings. And there are none who should be more grateful to the Democratic party for this than the Republican party of the North, because the Democrats in that section of the South, in thus saving the South from a fate worse than anarchy would earn for it and entitle it to the undying gratitude and appreciation of all its citizens, and all its attendant blessings. And there are none who should be more grateful to the Democratic party for this than the Republican party of the North, because the Democrats in that section of the South, in thus saving the South from a fate worse than anarchy would earn for it and entitle it to the undying gratitude and appreciation of all its citizens, and all its attendant blessings. And there are none who should be more grateful to the Democratic party for this than the Republican party of the North, because the Democrats in that section of the South, in thus saving the South from a fate worse than anarchy would earn for it and entitle it to the undying gratitude and appreciation of all its citizens, and all its attendant blessings. And there are none who should be more grateful to the Democratic party for this than the Republican party of the North, because the Democrats in that section of the South, in thus saving the South from a fate worse than anarchy would earn for it and entitle it to the undying gratitude and appreciation of all its citizens, and all its attendant blessings. And there are none who should be more grateful to the Democratic party for this than the Republican party of the North, because the Democrats in that section of the South, in thus saving the South from a fate worse than anarchy would earn for it and entitle it to the undying gratitude and appreciation of all its citizens, and all its attendant blessings. And there are none who should be more grateful to the Democratic party for this than the Republican party of the North, because the Democrats in that section of the South, in thus saving the South from a fate worse than anarchy would earn for it and entitle it to the undying gratitude and appreciation of all its citizens, and all its attendant blessings. And there are none who should be more grateful to the Democratic party for this than the Republican party of the North, because the Democrats in that section of the South, in thus saving the South from a fate worse than anarchy would earn for it and entitle it to the undying gratitude and appreciation of all its citizens, and all its attendant blessings. And there are none who should be more grateful to the Democratic party for this than the Republican party of the North, because the Democrats in that section of the South, in thus saving the South from a fate worse than anarchy would earn for it and entitle it to the undying gratitude and appreciation of all its citizens, and all its attendant blessings. And there are none who should be more grateful to the Democratic party for this than the Republican party of the North, because the Democrats in that section of the South, in thus saving the South from a fate worse than anarchy would earn for it and entitle it to the undying gratitude and appreciation of all its citizens, and all its attendant blessings. And there are none who should be more grateful to the Democratic party for this than the Republican party of the North, because the Democrats in that section of the South, in thus saving the South from a fate worse than anarchy would earn for it and entitle it to the undying gratitude and appreciation of all its citizens, and all its attendant blessings. And there are none who should be more grateful to the Democratic party for this than the Republican party of the North, because the Democrats in that section of the South, in thus saving the South from a fate worse than anarchy would earn for it and entitle it to the undying gratitude and appreciation of all its citizens, and all its attendant blessings. And there are none who should be more grateful to the Democratic party for this than the Republican party of the North, because the Democrats in that section of the South, in thus saving the South from a fate worse than anarchy would earn for it and entitle it to the undying gratitude and appreciation of all its citizens, and all its attendant blessings. And there are none who should be more grateful to the Democratic party for this than the Republican party of the North, because the Democrats in that section of the South, in thus saving the South from a fate worse than anarchy would earn for it and entitle it to the undying gratitude and appreciation of all its citizens, and all its attendant blessings. And there are none who should be more grateful to the Democratic party for this than the Republican party of the North, because the Democrats in that section of the South, in thus saving the South from a fate worse than anarchy would earn for it and entitle it to the undying gratitude and appreciation of all its citizens, and all its attendant blessings. And there are none who should be more grateful to the Democratic party for this than the Republican party of the North, because the Democrats in that section of the South, in thus saving the South from a fate worse than anarchy would earn for it and entitle it to the undying gratitude and appreciation of all its citizens, and all its attendant blessings. And there are none who should be more grateful to the Democratic party for this than the Republican party of the North, because the Democrats in that section of the South, in thus saving the South from a fate worse than anarchy would earn for it and entitle it to the undying gratitude and appreciation of all its citizens, and all its attendant blessings. And there are none who should be more grateful to the Democratic party for this than the Republican party of the North, because the Democrats in that section of the South, in thus saving the South from a fate worse than anarchy would earn for it and entitle it to the undying gratitude and appreciation of all its citizens, and all its attendant blessings. And there are none who should be more grateful to the Democratic party for this than the Republican party of the North, because the Democrats in that section of the South, in thus saving the South from a fate worse than anarchy would earn for it and entitle it to the undying gratitude and appreciation of all its citizens, and all its attendant blessings. And there are none who should be more grateful to the Democratic party for this than the Republican party of the North, because the Democrats in that section of the South, in thus saving the South from a fate worse than anarchy would earn for it and entitle it to the undying gratitude and appreciation of all its citizens, and all its attendant blessings. And there are none who should be more grateful to the Democratic party for this than the Republican party of the North, because the Democrats in that section of the South, in thus saving the South from a fate worse than anarchy would earn for it and entitle it to the undying gratitude and appreciation of all its citizens, and all its attendant blessings. And there are none who should be more grateful to the Democratic party for this than the Republican party of the North, because the Democrats in that section of the South, in thus saving the South from a fate worse than anarchy would earn for it and entitle it to the undying gratitude and appreciation of all its citizens, and all its attendant blessings. And there are none who should be more grateful to the Democratic party for this than the Republican party of the North, because the Democrats in that section of the South, in thus saving the South from a fate worse than anarchy would earn for it and entitle it to the undying gratitude and appreciation of all its citizens, and all its attendant blessings. And there are none who should be more grateful to the Democratic party for this than the Republican party of the North, because the Democrats in that section of the South, in thus saving the South from a fate worse than anarchy would earn for it and entitle it to the undying gratitude and appreciation of all its citizens, and all its attendant blessings. And there are none who should be more grateful to the Democratic party for this than the Republican party of the North, because the Democrats in that section of the South, in thus saving the South from a fate worse than anarchy would earn for it and entitle it to the undying gratitude and appreciation of all its citizens, and all its attendant blessings. And there are none who should be more grateful to the Democratic party for this than the Republican party of the North, because the Democrats in that section of the South, in thus saving the South from a fate worse than anarchy would earn for it and entitle it to the undying gratitude and appreciation of all its citizens, and all its attendant blessings. And there are none who should be more grateful to the Democratic party for this than the Republican party of the North, because the Democrats in that section of the South, in thus saving the South from a fate worse than anarchy would earn for it and entitle it to the undying gratitude and appreciation of all its citizens, and all its attendant blessings. And there are none who should be more grateful to the Democratic party for this than the Republican party of the North, because the Democrats in that section of the South, in thus saving the South from a fate worse than anarchy would earn for it and entitle it to the undying gratitude and appreciation of all its citizens, and all its attendant blessings. And there are none who should be more grateful to the Democratic party for this than the Republican party of the North, because the Democrats in that section of the South, in thus saving the South from a fate worse than anarchy would earn for it and entitle it to the undying gratitude and appreciation of all its citizens, and all its attendant blessings. And there are none who should be more grateful to the Democratic party for this than the Republican party of the North, because the Democrats in that section of the South, in thus saving the South from a fate worse than anarchy would earn for it and entitle it to the undying gratitude and appreciation of all its citizens, and all its attendant blessings. And there are none who should be more grateful to the Democratic party for this than the Republican party of the North, because the Democrats in that section of the South, in thus saving the South from a fate worse than anarchy would earn for it and entitle it to the undying gratitude and appreciation of all its citizens, and all its attendant blessings. And there are none who should be more grateful to the Democratic party for this than the Republican party of the North, because the Democrats in that section of the South, in thus saving the South from a fate worse than anarchy would earn for it and entitle it to the undying gratitude and appreciation of all its citizens, and all its attendant blessings. And there are none who should be more grateful to the Democratic party for this than the Republican party of the North, because the Democrats in that section of the South, in thus saving the South from a fate worse than anarchy would earn for it and entitle it to the undying gratitude and appreciation of all its citizens, and all its attendant blessings. And there are none who should be more grateful to the Democratic party for this than the Republican party of the North, because the Democrats in that section of the South, in thus saving the South from a fate worse than anarchy would earn for it and entitle it to the undying gratitude and appreciation of all its citizens, and all its attendant blessings. And there are none who should be more grateful to the Democratic party for this than the Republican party of the North, because the Democrats in that section of the South, in thus saving the South from a fate worse than anarchy would earn for it and entitle it to the undying gratitude and appreciation of all its citizens, and all its attendant blessings. And there are none who should be more grateful to the Democratic party for this than the Republican party of the North, because the Democrats in that section of the South, in thus saving the South from a fate worse than anarchy would earn for it and entitle it to the undying gratitude and appreciation of all its citizens, and all its attendant blessings. And there are none who should be more grateful to the Democratic party for this than the Republican party of the North, because the Democrats in that section of the South, in thus saving the South from a fate worse than anarchy would earn for it and entitle it to the undying gratitude and appreciation of all its citizens, and all its attendant blessings. And there are none who should be more grateful to the Democratic party for this than the Republican party of the North, because the Democrats in that section of the South, in thus saving the South from a fate worse than anarchy would earn for it and entitle it to the undying gratitude and appreciation of all its citizens, and all its attendant blessings. And there are none who should be more grateful to the Democratic party for this than the Republican party of the North, because the Democrats in that section of the South, in thus saving the South from a fate worse than anarchy would earn for it and entitle it to the undying gratitude and appreciation of all its citizens, and all its attendant blessings. And there are none who should be more grateful to the Democratic party for this than the Republican party of the North, because the Democrats in that section of the South, in thus saving the South from a fate worse than anarchy would earn for it and entitle it to the undying gratitude and appreciation of all its citizens, and all its attendant blessings. And there are none who should be more grateful to the Democratic party for this than the Republican party of the North, because the Democrats in that section of the South, in thus saving the South from a fate worse than anarchy would earn for it and entitle it to the undying gratitude and appreciation of all its citizens, and all its attendant blessings. And there are none who should be more grateful to the Democratic party for this than the Republican party of the North, because the Democrats in that section of the South, in thus saving the South from a fate worse than anarchy would earn for it and entitle it to the undying gratitude and appreciation of all its citizens, and all its attendant blessings. And there are none who should be more grateful to the Democratic party for this than the Republican party of the North, because the Democrats in that section of the South, in thus saving the South from a fate worse than anarchy would earn for it and entitle it to the undying gratitude and appreciation of all its citizens, and all its attendant blessings. And there are none who should be more grateful to the Democratic party for this than the Republican party of the North, because the Democrats in that section of the South, in thus saving the South from a fate worse than anarchy would earn for it and entitle it to the undying gratitude and appreciation of all its citizens, and all its attendant blessings. And there are none who should be more grateful to the Democratic party for this than the Republican party of the North, because the Democrats in that section of the South, in thus saving the South from a fate worse than anarchy would earn for it and entitle it to the undying gratitude and appreciation of all its citizens, and all its attendant blessings. And there are none who should be more grateful to the Democratic party for this than the Republican party of the North, because the Democrats in that section of the South, in thus saving the South from a fate worse than anarchy would earn for it and entitle it to the undying gratitude and appreciation of all its citizens, and all its attendant blessings. And there are none who should be more grateful to the Democratic party for this than the Republican party of the North, because the Democrats in that section of the South, in thus saving the South from a fate worse than anarchy would earn for it and entitle it to the undying gratitude and appreciation of all its citizens, and all its attendant blessings. And there are none who should be more grateful to the Democratic party for this than the Republican party of the North, because the Democrats in that section of the South, in thus saving the South from a fate worse than anarchy would earn for it and entitle it to the undying gratitude and appreciation of all its citizens, and all its attendant blessings. And there are none who should be more grateful to the Democratic party for this than the Republican party of the North, because the Democrats in that section of the South, in thus saving the South from a fate worse than anarchy would earn for it and entitle it to the undying gratitude and appreciation of all its citizens, and all its attendant blessings. And there are none who should be more grateful to the Democratic party for this than the Republican party of the North, because the Democrats in that section of the South, in thus saving the South from a fate worse than anarchy would earn for it and entitle it to the undying gratitude and appreciation of all its citizens, and all its attendant blessings. And there are none who should be more grateful to the Democratic party for this than the Republican party of the North, because the Democrats in that section of the South, in thus saving the South from a fate worse than anarchy would earn for it and entitle it to the undying gratitude and appreciation of all its citizens, and all its attendant blessings. And there are none who should be more grateful to the Democratic party for this than the Republican party of the North, because the Democrats in that section of the South, in thus saving the South from a fate worse than anarchy would earn for it and entitle it to the undying gratitude and appreciation of all its citizens, and all its attendant blessings. And there are none who should be more grateful to the Democratic party for this than the Republican party of the North, because the Democrats in that section of the South, in thus saving the South from a fate worse than anarchy would earn for it and entitle it to the undying gratitude and appreciation of all its citizens, and all its attendant blessings. And there are none who should be more grateful to the Democratic party for this than the Republican party of the North, because the Democrats in that section of the South, in thus saving the South from a fate worse than anarchy would earn for it and entitle it to the undying gratitude and appreciation of all its citizens, and all its attendant blessings. And there are none who should be more grateful to the Democratic party for this than the Republican party of the North, because the Democrats in that section of the South, in thus saving the South from a fate worse than anarchy would earn for it and entitle it to the undying gratitude and appreciation of all its citizens, and all its attendant blessings. And there are none who should be more grateful to the Democratic party for this than the Republican party of the North, because the Democrats in that section of the South, in thus saving the South from a fate worse than anarchy would earn for it and entitle it to the undying gratitude and appreciation of all its citizens, and all its attendant blessings. And there are none who should be more grateful to the Democratic party for this than the Republican party of the North, because the Democrats in that section of the South, in thus saving the South from a fate worse than anarchy would earn for it and entitle it to the undying gratitude and appreciation of all its citizens, and all its attendant blessings. And there are none who should be more grateful to the Democratic party for this than the Republican party of the North, because the Democrats in that section of the South, in thus saving the South from a fate worse than anarchy would earn for it and entitle it to the undying gratitude and appreciation of all its citizens, and all its attendant blessings. And there are none who should be more grateful to the Democratic party for this than the Republican party of the North, because the Democrats in that section of the South, in thus saving the South from a fate worse than anarchy would earn for it and entitle it to the undying gratitude and appreciation of all its citizens, and all its attendant blessings. And there are none who should be more grateful to the Democratic party for this than the Republican party of the North, because the Democrats in that section of the South, in thus saving the South from a fate worse than anarchy would earn for it and entitle it to the undying gratitude and appreciation of all its citizens, and all its attendant blessings. And there are none who should be more grateful to the Democratic party for this than the Republican party of the North, because the Democrats in that section of the South, in thus saving the South from a fate worse than anarchy would earn for it and entitle it to the undying gratitude and appreciation of all its citizens, and all its attendant blessings. And there are none who should be more grateful to the Democratic party for this than the Republican party of the North, because the Democrats in that section of the South, in thus saving the South from a fate worse than anarchy would earn for it and entitle it to the undying gratitude and appreciation of all its citizens, and all its attendant blessings. And there are none who should be more grateful to the Democratic party for this than the Republican party of the North, because the Democrats in that section of the South, in thus saving the South from a fate worse than anarchy would earn for it and entitle it to the undying gratitude and appreciation of all its citizens, and all its attendant blessings. And there are none who should be more grateful to the Democratic party for this than the Republican party of the North, because the Democrats in that section of the South, in thus saving the South from a fate worse than anarchy would earn for it and entitle it to the undying gratitude and appreciation of all its citizens, and all its attendant blessings. And there are none who should be more grateful to the Democratic party for this than the Republican party of the North, because the Democrats in that section of the South, in thus saving the South from a fate worse than anarchy would earn for it and entitle it to the undying gratitude and appreciation of all its citizens, and all its attendant blessings. And there are none who should be more grateful to the Democratic party for this than the Republican party of the North, because the Democrats in that section of the South, in thus saving the South from a fate worse than anarchy would earn for it and entitle it to the undying gratitude and appreciation of all its citizens, and all its attendant blessings. And there are none who should be more grateful to the Democratic party for this than the Republican party of the North, because the Democrats in that section of the South, in thus saving the South from a fate worse than anarchy would earn for it and entitle it to the undying gratitude and appreciation of all its citizens, and all its attendant blessings. And there are none who should be more grateful to the Democratic party for this than the Republican party of the North, because the Democrats in that section of the South, in thus saving the South from a fate worse than anarchy would earn for it and entitle it to the undying gratitude and appreciation of all its citizens, and all its attendant blessings. And there are none who should be more grateful to the Democratic party for this than the Republican party of the North, because the Democrats in that section of the South, in thus saving the South from a fate worse than anarchy would earn for it and entitle it to the undying gratitude and appreciation of all its citizens, and all its attendant blessings. And there are none who should be more grateful to the Democratic party for this than the Republican party of the North, because the Democrats in that section of the South, in thus saving the South from a fate worse than anarchy would earn for it and entitle it to the undying gratitude and appreciation of all its citizens, and all its attendant blessings. And there are none who should be more grateful to the Democratic party for this than the Republican party of the North, because the Democrats in that section of the South, in thus saving the South from a fate worse than anarchy would earn for it and entitle it to the undying gratitude and appreciation of all its citizens, and all its attendant blessings. And there are none who should be more grateful to the Democratic party for this than the Republican party of the North, because the Democrats in that section of the South, in thus saving the South from a fate worse than anarchy would earn for it and entitle it to the undying gratitude and appreciation of all its citizens, and all its attendant blessings. And there are none who should be more grateful to the Democratic party for this than the Republican party of the North, because the Democrats in that section of the South, in thus saving the South from a fate worse than anarchy would earn for it and entitle it to the undying gratitude and appreciation of all its citizens, and all its attendant blessings. And there are none who should be more grateful to the Democratic party for this than the Republican party of the North, because the Democrats in that section of the South, in thus saving the South from a fate worse than anarchy would earn for it and entitle it to the undying gratitude and appreciation of all its citizens, and all its attendant blessings. And there are none who should be more grateful to the Democratic party for this than the Republican party of the North, because the Democrats in that section of the South, in thus saving the South from a fate worse than anarchy would earn for it and entitle it to the undying gratitude and appreciation of all its citizens, and all its attendant blessings. And there are none who should be more grateful to the Democratic party for this than the Republican party of the North, because the Democrats in that section of the South, in thus saving the South from a fate worse than anarchy would earn for it and entitle it to the undying gratitude and appreciation of all its citizens, and all its attendant blessings. And there are none who should be more grateful to the Democratic party for this than the Republican party of the North, because the Democrats in that section of the South, in thus saving the South from a fate worse than anarchy would earn for it and entitle it to the undying gratitude and appreciation of all its citizens, and all its attendant blessings. And there are none who should be more grateful to the Democratic party for this than the Republican party of the North, because the Democrats in that section of the South, in thus saving the South from a fate worse than anarchy would earn for it and entitle it to the undying gratitude and appreciation of all its citizens, and all its attendant blessings. And there are none who should be more grateful to the Democratic party for this than the Republican party of the North, because the Democrats in that section of the South, in thus saving the South from a fate worse than anarchy would earn for it and entitle it to the undying gratitude and appreciation of all its citizens, and all its attendant blessings. And there are none who should be more grateful to the Democratic party for this than the Republican party of the North, because the Democrats in that section of the South, in thus saving the South from a fate worse than anarchy would earn for it and entitle it to the undying gratitude and appreciation of all its citizens, and all its attendant blessings. And there are none who should be more grateful to the Democratic party for this than the Republican party of the North, because the Democrats in that section of the South, in thus saving the South from a fate worse than anarchy would earn for it and entitle it to the undying gratitude and appreciation of all its citizens, and all its attendant blessings. And there are none who should be more grateful to the Democratic party for this than the Republican party of the North, because the Democrats in that section of the South, in thus saving the South from a fate worse than anarchy would earn for it and entitle it to the undying gratitude and appreciation of all its citizens, and all its attendant blessings. And there are none who should be more grateful to the Democratic party for this than the Republican party of the North, because the Democrats in that section of the South, in thus saving the South from a fate worse than anarchy would earn for it and entitle it to the undying gratitude and appreciation of all its citizens, and all its attendant blessings. And there are none who should be more